Foreword

The idea of a college is found at Western Carolina College in the academic, cultural, and social programs. These programs are designed to send those graduated from this institution into the world as productive citizens.

Academically, Western Carolina College offers a wide variety of programs which prepare the student for his chosen vocation. Although the program areas differ widely, the college gives the student basic preparation to meet the world of his generation.

Culturally, the college offers a variety of fine arts and sciences designed to further understanding of world culture. Through these series the student can develop deep insight into the culture of the world.

Socially, students are prepared to meet the people of the world through their daily living. Their association with friends, professors, sorority sisters, fraternity brothers, club members, and roommates contributes to their growth. Throughout four years of college, the student learns to study, work, and play with other individuals.

These three areas—academic, cultural, and social—are prominent in the lives of the students of Western Carolina College. Thus, these are the things which make Western Carolina the idea of a college and define the place of the College in the world.

Alma Mater

by W. E. Bird

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Faithful, kind, and true.
Every son and every daughter
Offers praise to you.

(Chorus)

Hail to the dearest spot of all;
Hail to Cullowhee!

Light and life and fond devotion,
All we owe to thee.

Purple shrouds and colors golden
Streaming everywhere
Swell our hearts with pride for olden
Days and friendship dear.

Under shade trees, friendly bowers
Voices, ever gay
Mingle with the breath of flowers
And the song bird's lay.

Shout aloud with one long chorus,
Voices full and free,
Teachers for us, God up o'er us,
Praise to Cullowhee!

Dedication

*Mr. William Bunyan
Harrill*

William Bunyan Harrill came to Western Carolina College in 1947 as professor of education and director of public relations, the only person ever to have held the latter position here. Twice he has served as Acting Dean.

His career in education spans forty-one years and covers service as teacher, principal, and college professor. It is not enough to say that he has done his work well. He has brought to it the "plus" values that set him apart from others, and for which he will be remembered through many generations.

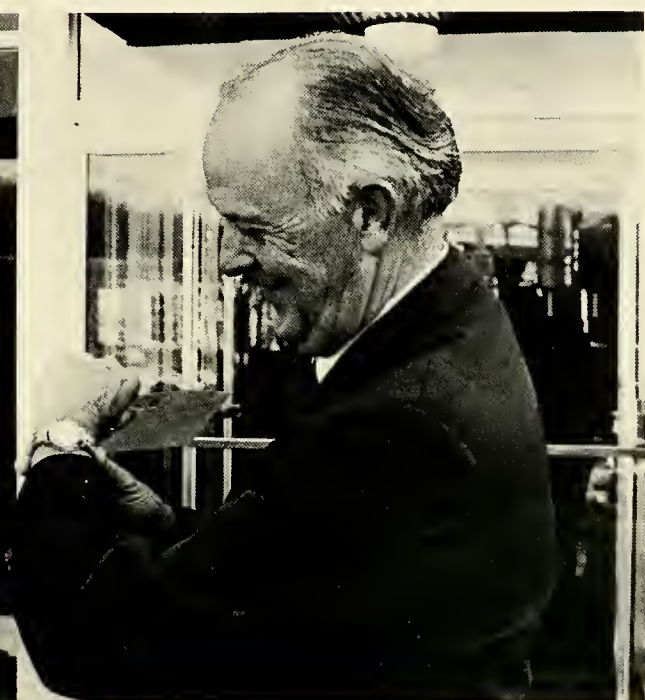

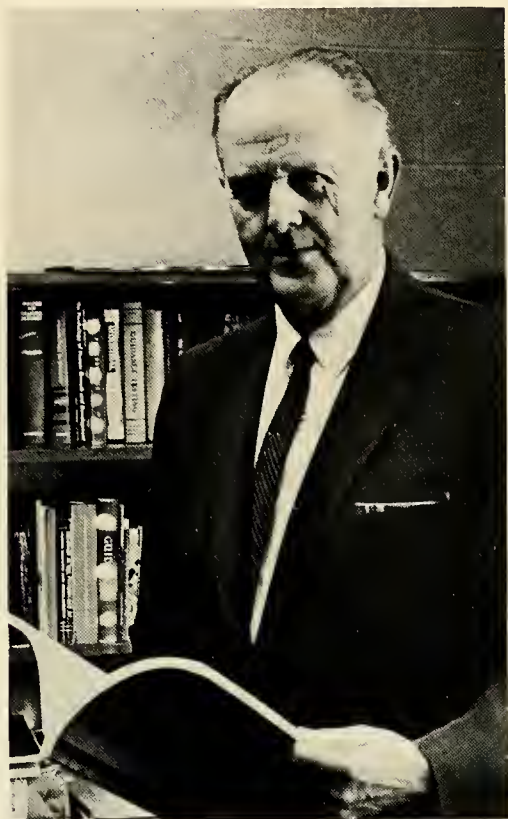

Mr. Harrill's sense of humor, his deep respect for human personalities, and his depth of insight add up to an enriching experience for his students. Scores of students recall not only his hearty laughter, but also the high standards he expects of them.

He is known throughout North Carolina and in surrounding states for the zeal with which he tells the WCC story; and his benefit to the college is incalculable. He is widely respected as a Baptist layman, is well known across the state as a sportsman, and is beloved by the many who know him as a personal friend.

The Class of 1965 is proud to dedicate its yearbook to William Bunyan Harrill.

History of Western Carolina College

Western Carolina College was founded in 1889 as a semi-private institution by Robert Lee Madison, and for fifteen years was known as Cullowhee High School. Beginning in 1912, the status of the school was gradually raised to that of a two-year normal school of junior college rank. The name was changed in 1925 to Cullowhee State Normal School and again, in 1929, to Western Carolina Teachers College when it reached four-year status. Although teacher education remained the College's chief function, demands for the liberal arts and for training in other areas led to an expansion of its offerings in 1953, and a change to the present title of Western Carolina College. In 1951, with the addition of a post-graduate year to the curriculum, the college was authorized to grant the master's degree in the professional field of teaching.

Western Carolina College is a degree-granting state co-educational institution, operating under a special charter and maintained by biennial appropriations from the State Legislature. Though its emphasis is on teacher education, its total undergraduate function is multipurpose in nature.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of Western Carolina College

The final game of the season found the Cots in Florida bottling with the Tompo University eleven. The long trip and the Powerful team proved too much for us to handle. Western held their opposition during the first half, but the team from Tompo proved their power during the second half.

With this game, the Cots ended a very surprising season. The sudden change in the grid-ers was a most important factor in providing a record which shows the success of our team; however, success cannot be measured by record books alone.

'64-'65 Catamounts

With only two returning lettermen, the Catamounts turned in on exceptional season. The Cats played before the largest audiences ever to frequent Cullawhee and before packed houses on all trips. The Catamounts, against all odds, pushed the home winning streak to forty games before losing to High Point on February 10, 1965. This is the longest home court winning streak in the history of the state, and fell one game short of tying the Notional record of forty-one games.

In-Service Program

The In-Service Program of Western Carolino College began in 1959. It was designed to serve industries and businesses in Western North Carolina by offering a course of study through which their personnel could further their education. The program was originally planned as extension training in cooperation with American Enka Corporation, but has since been enlarged to include any person meeting admission requirements set by the college.

The course of study outlined in this In-Service Program is designed to cover a six-year study plan. The courses offered are essentially the same as those offered to the regular college students. These courses are taught in Saturday classes or in afternoon and night sessions with rotation of courses and instructors to meet the needs of the individual students. Then, at the end of six years, the students enrolled in this program are eligible for a degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

This In-Service Program is proving very successful at Western Carolino, and this year the first students to enroll in the program will graduate and obtain their degrees. The program which is the only one of its kind in our country is undergoing extensive study and observation in order to determine the true value of such a program. Perhaps this in-service training offered by WCC will serve as a guide in establishing other programs of higher education throughout the country.

Last Words . . .

Within a school year many exciting events happen, memories may linger, and occasionally headaches and heartaches occur. All of these have made up my year as editor of the 1965 Catamount.

There is much more to editing a yearbook than just sitting behind a desk and dictating orders. True, many people feel that it is a glorious job, but I've found it to be a challenge in every sense of the word. There were always challenges and those who worked with me closely felt that I was their challenge.

To those who worked with me, I owe my deepest appreciation; for without them there would have been no yearbook. To all the staff my sincere thanks, especially to Dr. Quinn Constantz, our yearbook sponsor, who gave heartily of his support and guidance; to Frank Arnette, the Delmar Printing Company Representative, who was always there when I needed him; and to Bob Parrish and Bill Gray, the business manager and photographer, respectively, for their untiring efforts in making this yearbook possible. To these and many others, I am deeply grateful—not only for their work but for their encouragement and support in my work.

To those closer ones, go more thanks than I can ever express. Only through their understanding and love could I continue when the going was rough. Believe me—the going was rough many times when there was a deadline to meet, tests in my three hardest subjects on the same day, and three term papers to write. But all these things are over and my year has ended; another staff will soon begin work, and to it I wish great success. The tears and laughter I have experienced this year will not soon be forgotten. Although, I have said many times that I would not have the job if I could do it over—I know that the fun I have had and the many experiences I have shared make up for all the problems.

Really, I have enjoyed this year as editor of the 1965 Catamount. Thank you for placing your faith in me when you let me undertake this task.

Landra J. McCracken 65
